What type of information we have

Rowley Park Owners will collect and hold names, addresses and contact details.

Additionally, for residents who use the barrier access via Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR), we will also record car registration numbers and link these to individuals at their home address.

How we get the information and why we have it

This contact information is provided voluntarily by private individuals to enable Rowley Park Owners to send information about Rowley Park and the annual park rate to residents.

Additionally, where provided by residents, we will store car registration numbers.

By providing this information residents are giving their consent to Rowley Park Owners to use it for the purposes specified above. Residents may withdraw this consent at any time by notifying The Secretary.

What we do with the information

The contact details provided are used to provide information regarding the Park (e.g. road cleaning, park closures, annual park rates, etc.).

Car registration numbers are held in order to allow the barrier to open as the car approaches.

This information is only used for these purposes and is not shared with any other organisation or body.

How we store your information

The information is securely stored in both paper and electronic records and is destroyed when individuals no longer have an association with Rowley Park, no longer pay the annual park rate, change their car or withdraw their consent.

Your data protection rights

Individuals provide this information to Rowley Park Owners so that they can receive information in relation to Rowley Park and/or use the ANPR operated barrier. They can ask for their information to be removed at any time by contacting the Secretary.

How to complain

You can make a complaint to the Secretary of Rowley Park Owners. If the complaint remains unresolved you can also contact the Information Commissioners Office.
